THE LIVINGSTON GROUP ADDS FORMER WESTINGHOUSE DIRECTOR AND SENATE GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS STAFFER TO CONSULTANT TEAM

For Immediate Release

September 10, 2007

Washington, DC- The Livingston Group, LLC today announced the affiliation of Ian Butterfield, former top Hill staffer and president of Butterfield Carter and Associates. Butterfield will serve as a consultant within several of TLG's Practice Areas: Defense Technology and Homeland Security; Energy and Environment; and International Relations/Business Development.

"We believe that Ian's broad experience working on Capitol Hill, as a lobbyist for a major US corporation and as the head of his own company, will bring decided advantages to our team, particularly in our rapidly growing international practice area," said TLG President Bob Livingston.

"Ian worked extensively in Europe, Africa and East Asia. His past and present client list demonstrates his broad capabilities in promoting the interests of US companies overseas and in assisting non-US companies to establish and expand in the United States," Livingston added.

Butterfield worked for 12 years in the United States Senate handling international and security issues for Senator William V. Roth, Jr. (R-DE). Senator Roth – as President of the North Atlantic Assembly – selected Butterfield to serve as the secretary for the U.S. Senate delegation, briefing all Senate delegation members on matters pertaining to NATO and East-West relations. In 1995, he joined Westinghouse Electric Corporation as Director, International and Government Affairs, where he was credited with helping to secure alterations in US law that enabled US nuclear companies to commence equipment, fuel and technology exports to the People's Republic of China. In 2000, he co-founded Butterfield Carter and Associates. In that capacity, Butterfield represented the following clients: British Nuclear Fuels; the Institute of Cetacean Research (Japan); Balfour Beatty (UK); the Embassy of Japan; Navigant, Inc and MWH of the Americas.

"I have admired the Livingston Group from a distance for quite some time," said Butterfield. "I am truly looking forward to working with such a dynamic company with a flourishing international business component."
